The Arequipa authorities have seized Colonel Luna, Com. Vizcarra, and several other officers compromised in the recent revolutionary movement in favor of Iglesias.

Cordoba, 19th—Dr Juarez Celman's proclamation takes place to-morrow in San Vicente. As usual the greatest enthusiasm prevails.

Last night a large Moyanista meeting was held but nothing of any importance, beyond a "canje de ideas" took place. It was rumoured at a late hour last night that the printing establishment of a leading newspaper was about to be attacked and 'empastelada.'

Catamarca, 19th—A Rochista has been imprisoned for some imaginary offence. Great indignation prevails.

Colon, 19th—By order of the Jefe de Policia a boy in one of the schools here has been imprisoned. This boy is an employée in the house of a Rochista. Great indignation prevails.

Montevideo, 19th—The reception given last night by the Chilian Minister, M. A. P. Montt, was splendid, and "hara epoca."

The consular and diplomatic corps were present. The Minister's residence was decked out in regal splendor for the occasion. At the ball, which was given after the banquet, over one hundred of the best known Montevidean families were present. The President, Ministers and Senators were all present.

It is stated that the reception must have entailed an outlay of £2,000.

The Duchess of Lucignano was particularly conspicuous, and was the centre of attraction and admiration. She wore a most costly dress for the occasion.

On the whole, the reception, which is the talk of the entire city, was a most brilliant success, and will long be remembered in high life circles.

M. J. Arteaga is still very seriously ill.

Advices from Recife report the total wreck of the Brazilian vessel Guido.

The papers announce the sudden illness of D. Manuel Corra.

Robt. Davison, an Argentine citizen, who brought an action against one of the deputies recently, before Judge Regales, has been condemed to a fine of $1000 hard dollars. It is stated that Davison will resort to the "voie diplomatique.

Yesterday the Bishop, and a considerable number of Catholics, assisted at the funeral of one of the Salesian nuns. This is the first nun interred in the public cemetery by virtue of the new law.

The President will assist at the Italian festivities in the Solis Theatre to-morrow.

Over fifty persons received Minister Carve on his arrival.

The Maldonado port works will be commenced in October. It appears that the wife of the 'capataz' of the Mad Asylum was not poisoned but committed suicide.

The reports spread by the Tribuna Popular, with reference to the Bank contract, have been officially contradicted.

THE NEW PARTIDOS.

Seven new partidos in the Province of Buenos Ayres—seven new towns—seven new colonies—seven new centres of population!! Such is the new decree of the La Plata Government, and if properly carried out it will result in immense good to the districts embraced in the edict. In each of these new partidos the Provincial Government will expropriate an area of 8 leagues for the formation of a town with chacras etc. The following is a list of the new partidos :—

	Leagues square.
Patagones	523
Colorado	373
Puan	351
Adolfo Alsina	225
Guamini	421
Trenquelauquen	450
General Villegas	380
	2,723

It will be seen that the new partido of Patagones is the largest of all the new districts. It extends River to River, the Colorado to the Rio Negro, bounded on the East by the Atlantic Ocean, and on the west by the fifth Meridian, which crosses the Rio Negro at a delightful spot on the river called China Muerta. Fully 7/8ths of the land in this new partido is as yet unstocked and uninhabited, and will probably remain so, until a railway is made to open up that country and run from Bahia Blanca to Patagones. Along the Rio Negro from its month to China Muerta every inch of land is settled on, and for fifty leagues further up the river bank, but the back country is all open although we hear some French Colonists and farmers are now settling on the best spots in the travesia. The lands in this new partido along the sea coast are all settled on, from San Blas Harbour to the mouth of the Rio Negro, and the splendid pasture lands from the Colorado to San Blas are also stocked and settled on, and we imagine that the Government of Buenos Ayres, will see the propriety of starting a town somewhere hereabouts on the sea shore as also at the pass over the river Colorado. The weekly diligence from Bahia Blanca to Patagones runs through those lands, which are each day becoming move and more settled on. Messrs Schauffleur and Trob, have started a large estancia, some 14 square leagues, and running from the Bahia Union near the mouth of the Colorado to the Tres Bonetes, but the lands lying between the Tres Bonetes and the Isla de Walker is wild as when the Indians had it, and at some convenient spot about here it would be well for the Government to start a town.

The numerous salt mines in this new partido may soon prove a mine of wealth for the Provincial Government. The partido Colorado stretches from the river Colorado to the Sauce Chico in Bahia Blanca, with the ocean on the East and the Fifth Meridan on the West, and on the North-East the new partido of Puan, the estancias of Vidal, Berraondo, La Torre, Lezama, Casalla, G. Soler, Oliden, Norris, Gondora and Jousell.

We have not space at the moment to continue the limits and boundaries of the other partidos, but shall in our next complete the list. In the new partido Colorado, we should suggest that the Government start a town on the sea coast, in the neighbourhood of Brightman Bay, or at Isla Verde. It is indeed remarkable that all along the coast from Mar del Plata to the Straits of Magellan there is not a single sea coast town, since Bahia Blanca is so far inland that it canot be considered on the coast. Towns might easily be formed at Isla Verde, Brightman's Bay, Union Bay and San Blas, and as the decree in question provides for the starting of new towns, it is very possible that the La Plata Government meditates something of the kind along the coast.

BAHIA BLANCA SALADERO

The first report of this Joint Stock Saladero concern was published yesterday, announcing to the shareholders the pleasing fact that the saladero has been built and leased, thereby securing to them an interest on their money, and attaining the still higher benefit of creating a market there for estancieros in that wide zone of territory.

The Company bought from Mr Berraondo a chacra on the Naposta, 20 squares of land, for 4,960 m/n. and on this site, at an outlay of 51,500 m/n, erected their saladero. The further expenses incurred by the company to complete the establishment, amount to 43,000 m|n, making a total disbursement of 99,420 m|n, which covers the total capital of the Company 100,000 m|n, and renders it imperative for the Directors to place the 37 unsubscribed shares as quickly as possible.

Dn Fermin Moyano has rented the saladero for 2 years from 1st Oct. next paying 7000 $m|n per annum, and a further percentage on the animals killed at prices 25 per cent under those stipulated. It is thought that allowing 1 per cent for expenses the rent will give the shareholders 6 per cent dividend on their money.

The board of Directors is formed so:—

Dn A. C. Cambaceres, Pres.
J. J. Sanchez, Sec.
S. G. Gomez, Treasurer
J. M. Martinez, Director
E. Casey, do.
Suplentes
Dn E. Tornquist

We wish the company the very best success, but cannot forego remarking that the report in question is another evidence of the great difficulty that surrounds the starting of Native joint stock companies in Buenos Ayres. The whole capital of the concern is but 100,000 m/n, which is a mere trifle for any of the rich men who figure on the list for one or two shares. We certainly understood when the started this company that sufficient capital would be raised to add to the saladero, a meat freezing establishment, but we find nothing in the report before us about it, and what is most humiliating in this matter is that of the 100 shares offered to the public, 37 are still unplaced, whilst of those placed, many of the shareholders have so far only paid up the first call. This speaks bad for a company in which we had centered so many hopes, and shows how much the enthusiasm for the Liverpool of the Plate, has like Bob Acres courage "oozed out."

PRICES AND GOLD SUPPLY.

(By M. G. Mulhall, F.S.S.)

IV. THE PROSPECTS OF PRICES.

It is hardly necessary for me to add that, unless some terrible disasters befall mankind, we are on the safe and steady march to a lower level of prices, to the greater expansion of trade and the benefit of the world. Lower prices may cause a passing loss to the tradesman or manufacturer; but commercial interests soon right themselves. In England calico is now sold at 3½ pence per yard, which was sold at 13 pence in the year 1820, yet the industry is more productive to the nation than it was then, as we see on comparing the value of manufactures and deducting the cost of raw material :—

Millions sterling.

Year.	Cost of Raw Cotton.	Value of Cotton Manufactured.	Gain to the Nation.
1820	7	27	20
1881	39	95	56

Mankind is still more a gainer, for our monthly exportation is now 420 million yards, against 21 millions in 1820: that is, twenty persons of other nations can now afford to buy English cotton goods for one in 1820. What is true of cottons may be said of other things. When steel pens were worth sixpence a dozen the trade was very small, but now that we can buy them at a penny a dozen both the manufacturers and the public are gainers.

We hear a great deal about over-production, which, applied to crops, means that heaven is too bountiful and to other things that man is too industrious. The obstacles to commerce, higher tariffs, etc., which have been of late years increasing in many countries, have tended to diminish the markets of consumption; but if we could to-morrow sweep away custom-houses, and throw open all ports to free-trade, the factories of England, the United States, France, Belgium, etc., would be unable to supply the demand for their products.

Legislators who endeavour to keep up prices belong to the same school of economy as the malefactors who used to burn down San Francisco in order to raise the value of timber. Glaziers have been known to thank heaven for a destructive hail-storm, and some sugar merchants would, perhaps, rejoice if the island of Barbadoes were submerged by an earthquake.

Meantime, the welfare of mankind is associated with low prices, and every improvement of machinery, every fresh facility for commerce, points in that direction. Statesmen and merchants should keep their attention on this fact, and endeavour to promote a cheapened cost of production, accompanied by a corresponding fall in prices, the better to widen the markets of consumption for British products. Let them not be deluded by the theory of a relation between prices and gold supply; it has been buried in the grave with Michel Chevalier, and the ashes of the dead ought to be allowed to rest in peace.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

September 18.

In my letter of the 28th August, which was regularly posted here but did not reach you, I touched upon the subject of cremation, having noticed that incinerary furnaces had been erected at Martin Garcia, for the Lazaretto there. I was led to ruminate on the subject by the perusal of an article published by an Italian medical student, who describes, with the language of the dissecting-table, the rather appalling process of the incineration of a body, which in this case was that of an elderly lady. The ceremony took place in a crematory in Genoa, erected on a new and apparently very superior principle. The body is consumed rapidly by a constant stream (if I may use the expression) of pure flame, produced from the combustion of a certain kind of wood, and the process can be watched by means of ingeniously-placed apertures. Of course, the mourners are in ignorance of the fact that probably the profane eye of some scientist is coolly viewing the gradual destruction of the dear form, lost to their sight for ever in this world. It required a little nerve, I confess, to read the minute description of the incineration, commencing with the instantaneous scorching up of the hair, leaving the skull bare, and ending with the destruction of the heart, which offers the most resistance to the fire of any other part of the body. In a couple of hours the body had quietly subsided into lines of ashes, covered, singularly enough, with the film of the shroud, like the film of a piece of paper laid on the fire, and on which, turned into a cinder, characters or letters, or rather the ghost of them, may be distinguished until the puff of a breath blows it into space. The ashes—the only relatively indestructible part of the body—were then carefully collected, placed in a small, elegantly-shaped urn, which was presented to the relatives, on which they departed.

The ceremonials of the Jews, the processes of embalming which were practised by the ancient Egyptians and Peruvians, and the burning of the dead by the Greeks, the Romans and the Ethiopians, were but the means of preventing dangers from putrefaction. The ancients were wiser than we are; we make our dead a continual menace to the living, by putting them bodily into the earth. But I am not thinking so much now of public utility as of private sentiment. The opponents of cremation are horrified at the 'cruelty' of the process. Our present system is infinitely more cruel. I can imagine asking a corpse :

"My dear friend, which would you prefer, to be put under ground or be burnt?"

And I can fancy the defunct answering eagerly:

"Burn me by all means; let my several parts disappear and amalgamate with the elements in the glorious sunshine, and not be hidden away in a dark cold hole, companioned with worms and rottenness; save me, o friend, from such a horrible fate!"

A body in a good soil and under favorable circumstances will have disappeared in about eight or ten years; but if the soil be clayey or peaty, it may take a century to decay. Is it not atrocious cruelty to place the body of a dear friend or relative, in such a situation of prolonged agony? It is because we are thoughtless. We visit the grave of a dear departed; we shed tears over it; we plant flowers on it; we invoke the spirit of the dead, but we never think of the repulsive change that is operating under our feet. It is probably as well, for human reason could not support a view of the silent horrors of the 'charnel house.' The total disappearance of the perishable parts of the body is the acknowledged desideratum of all civilized nations, in fact all nations at present. Why then should we subject the body of a dear friend to the ignominious, disgusting, lengthened out horrors of an earthy tomb, when a couple of hours will suffice to liberate his elements, without danger to the public health, and restore them again to the living world, that they may circulate in accordance with the law and economy of nature? It is enough to make our hair stand on end to think that fathers and mothers, husbands and wives, sisters and brothers, are forgotten long before their dead bodies have even lost entirely the form of humanity in their ghastly dwelling place.

John Brown's body (may still be) mouldering in the grave. Let us be sensible and cremate, or in vulgar language, burn our dead. What could more satisfy the poetry of sentiment than to fill a flower pot with the ashes of a wife or husband, and plant a "Forget me not" in it? Besides, at an auction of the furniture, it would always fetch something.

I have been speaking with a foreigner who was present at the supposed attempt of assasinating Dr. Irigoyen. The man Diaz, was tipsy and it appears fired his pistol he did not know where, but not into the carriage. I don't think he had any criminal intention. What object could the man have in killing Dr. Irigoyen. It seems much more probable, that having a pistol in his hand he let it off in the air as he would have let off a squib. It is wrong of the papers to make such horrid charges unless there be clear proofs. No mark of the ball was found. The man was not taken up for some hours after the incident.

One of the finest short-horn Bulls we have seen in this province arrived a short time ago for Mr. William Barnett's fine Stock Farm, a short distance from Rosario. Before leaving England, "Sir Walter" won first prize at the Northern Counties Bull show, held at Inverness, where 60 short-horn Bulls were exhibited, calved 9th Jan. 1884.

Dr. Lucas Gonzalez does not let the grass grow under his feet. We shall have to dub him the South American Railway King. He is taking a new departure in railway construction, and has discovered the manner how lines can be built without forming companies, asking guarantees or "prorogas etc. Before the public are fully aware of his doings he will have the Entre Riano Railway finished between the two rivers; and if the Government and Congress accept his most favorable proposals, we shall have the Northern Line extended to the frontiers of Bolivia in no time. Mr. Gonzalez is a born Railway King, and having such men as Messrs Hume to cooperate with him, he will metamorphose our old systems. More power to his elbow, as a STANDARD countryman would say.

W. P.

RENTS AND NEW BUILDINGS.

Buenos Ayres is developing and extending in the most surprising manner. As a proof of this statement, we have but to visit the suburbs and see for ourselves the gigantic progress made of late in extending the city. Where only a few years ago there were but commons and waste lands, to-day there are magnificent buildings and palatial residences. And this progress will continue in proportion to the increase in our population.

It is now an established fact that houses afford the best investment, giving on an average ¾ 0/0 interest per month on the capital invested, whereas the banks allow only 5 0/0 per annum.

At the present moment the working classes have a hard time, owing to the stiff rising tendency of rents. We may safely say that since 1878 rents have risen 100 0/0. This state of affairs has given birth to an association calculated to most materially benefit the country and meet a requirement much felt, particularly in this city: we allude to the Building Society recently started, under the most favorable auspices, and which will, to a certain extent, place good houses within the reach of persons and families of modest means.

The Building Society, known amongst us as the Edificadora, is one whose object is to sell to its members houses and properties, the value of which is anticipated. The purchaser is allowed 14 years to pay off the capital invested, an amortization of one per cent. per month being a "sine qua non" condition.

To enter into details, we shall suppose that a house is purchased by a member for $10,000, payable in 14 years, as follows :—

	Capital.	5 0/0 Interest for 14 years.	Total.
	$	$	$
Money advanced	10,000	7000	17,000
Payment 2 o/o on purchsae	200	—	200
Balance	9,800	7000	16,800
Payment per annum	700	500	1,200
Do. per month	$58\frac{1}{3}$	$49\frac{2}{3}$	100

In other words, a member of the Edificadora is entitled to the possession of a house worth $10,000, after 14 years, paying at the rate of $100 per month. These figures, in themselves, suffice to prove the importance of this society. However, we must not omit another detail. If the purchaser is not able to meet his obligation, an auction will be called, the proceeds of which will go to cover the obligations, the balance returning to the purchaser.

We shall not dwell at length on the many other advantages of the new Building Society, but we are at liberty to state that the results, so far, have been so satisfactory, that a dividend will be paid to the shareholders at the end of its first year. This certainly is a most undeniable sign of prosperity.

Since the Society was started, in the month of March of the present year, it has commenced the erection of twelve houses. We need not, however, as we have before remarked, dwell on details, as the report of the shareholders was read on Friday. We shall merely add, that the value of the houses in course of erection is $80,000, and when those buildings are completed, they will, in all probability, give monthly returns of 770$.

A very fine house is being built by the Society in the Avenida Montes de Oca, six in the Calle Armonia, at a distance of two blocks from the Southern Railway, and one in the Calle Brazil.

It is a public duty to stimulate and encourage institutions of this kind, and, in the present case, we feel bound to applaud a society which endeavours to place fine residences within the reach of families with modest means.

Life and Fire Insurance Companies and Building Societies are institutions of high moral significance, contributing, in no small degree, to domestic felicity, encouraging the poor man to work, and holding out for him the hope that he will one day reach the goal of his honest ambition—Tribuna Nacional.

LONDON LETTER.

ANOTHER WEEK OF IT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

August 7th.

Parliament will scarcely be prorogued before Tuesday, just giving the fellows time to clean up their guns for the 12th. The accounts from the moors are most favorable. Lord Salisbury's Government will have almost passed more bills since it came into office than Mr. Gladstone did in a whole session, or in two. Of course, those are the bills of the late Government, and it shows what can be done when there is no carping and obstructive opposition. We are quite sick of Parliament and of the sham state of affairs, which seems to react on the Continent of Europe, where the meetings of Emperors seems to excite little interest.

Attention is fixed on France and England, as in both countries the coming elections will have great effect on the near future of all Europe and a part of Asia. The presence of Lord Salisbury in the British Cabinet has inspired Prince Bismarck, or his official journal, with the idea of again bringing out the rod and lecturing little France on the advantages of good behaviour. "Above all," says Germany," with her forefinger raised in school-dame fashion, "you are to make no advances to England without my permission. I am at present setting my cap that way myself. I see also you are forming a cavalry division. There is do objection for that. I have just formed a new division myself, and if you want cavalry I can send you some, and precious soon." The politicians in Vienna and elsewhere are at a loss to discover the cause for this outbreak of wrath against France. It is supposed to refer to M. de Freycinet, whom the Germans have always suspected of biding his time for a lunge at them. Why the French Government should be suddenly disposed to reverse the insane policy of M. Ferry, and cultivate the good-will of England, is, at the present juncture, a political conundrum, because the only chance of France is an alliance with Russia. Even if France supposes that our question with Russia in India and Central Asia is not serious, and that the only serious question is her own "revanche," surely, she connot count again on the "benevolent neutrality" of this country. Fifteen years ago we had no concern with the quarrel between France and Germany. On one side or the other the cause was not political; it was a question of "amour propre," and of a desire to try their military toys. The case is now entirely different. Germany is a powerful nation that, with our assistance or without it, can hold France and Russia in check Mr. Gladstone gave Gambetta the chance of joining us to hold Germany and Russia in check. Gambetta died and his successors misunderstood his policy on the Egyptian question. They have since made themselves offensive to this country, and many Englishmen bred up in the time of the Emperor Louis Napoleon, who was always friendly towards us, and sympathising with the Republican regime which followed, would regret being on bad terms with their old allies and neighbours, the French, whilst seeing the impossibility of allowing Germany, which has really no political cause whatever for jealousy or hostility towards us, to run the risk of being muzzled by France and Russia combined. The foreign policy of the English Conservative Government in that one regard, the alliance with Germany, Italy and Austria-Hungary, has often been opposed by Liberals, the only objection being that it was not a policy of foresight, on the part of the Conservatives, but of sympathy with the German Monarchy.

The present attitude of the French people, or mob, in regard to England and the English, has converted a speculative policy into a fact, and it may be looked upon as certain, that whether the coming elections are in favour of one party or the other, the British alliance with Germany will be secure.

You will see in the papers long accounts of the funeral of Gen. Grant, in the States, and of the impressive service in Westminster Abbey in his honor. The Queen and Royal Family were severally represented in the ceremony at the Abbey. The Duke of Cambridge, as Commander-in-Chief, was there in person. The Government was represented by the Earl of Harrowby and the Earl of Iddesleigh. The United States' Government was represented by the American Minister, Mr Phelps, and the Secretaries of the Legation. Mr. Kesson, late United States' Minister to Germany, and a great many distinguished American gentlemen, were present There was a great crush of the English fashionables, and as the admission was by ticket, numbers of Americans in London were shut out, and there is some growling; but, altogether, the ceremony was very grand, and the address of Archdeacon Farrar was eloquent and happy. The transmission of the full account of the service to New York, has been received by the American papers in a kind and grateful spirit. Indeed, I think, from what I see, it would have been much better if they had sent poor Grant over to us to bury. The scene in Westminster Abbey was more solemn than the lying in state of his body at New York. They jolted the "casket" sadly, and the corps was not in very good condition. We are told it required all the skill of the American embalmers to get the face again in shape that it might be viewed through a glass pane in the coffin by the public. Lying in state, in all cases, is a somewhat disgusting exhibition, and not at all adapted to the long distances and railway carriage in America. Pop us in when we are done with, as soon as possible, and have what obsequies you like afterwards.

I do not torment you with cholera news; though in Spain the epidemic has arrived at that plague-like stage when doctors die and the sick and the dead are abandoned. The cholera is at Marseilles; there is no doubt about that; and the question is whether it is not still nearer to us in France. Here the weather is cool and beautiful and the public health unusually good. The prospects of the harvest are excellent. It is likely to be abundant and very early. Most of the fashionables are already out of town; and many of them are with the Prince of Wales down at Cowes. His yacht the Alina came in about the seventh in the race just concluded. She was a schooner like the crack 'Egeria; and both were left behind in a light wind by the smaller yachts. The winner was the Lorna.

The only sensation in town is the scandal in which Sir Charles Dilke is said to be mixed up with. The full particulars are not yet made public; but whatever it is it seems to have stopped his visit to Ireland. There was even a rumour that he intended to withdraw from political life.

Mr Farquharson, the absconded director of the Munster Bank, is said to have made for Tralee when he left Dublin, and on the same night to have embarked at Tralee for Spain, where he will, no doubt, meet Mr Collie and other gentlemen belonging to the English colony in Spain.

The sea serpent is really at Dublin and exhibited on shore. The Irish sea serpent is 24 feet long and 67 feet in circumference—probably a turtle.

THE SCAB LAW.

September 6.

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir:

That a scab law the same as in Australia would be an enormous benefit to the country, no one can deny, but to be a benefit it must be impartially and rigorously administered; will it be? I don't think any one need have lived many years in the camp to answer that question; we all too well know how law is administered in a camp juzgado. The passing of a scab law will enable the Government to name some of its needy hangers-on as inspectors; it will not matter much whether they know anything about sheep or not, they will draw their salaries and vote for Government, and the person through whose "empeño" they have been named will be pleased. In this partido the most scabby flocks belong to the present President of the Municipality and to two ex-Jueces de Paz, both of whom are "personæ gratæ" to the present administration. Tell me, dear STANDARD, should these persons continue to keep scabby sheep after the law is passed, will they be fined? There was a law passed obliging people to mark their cattle in certain parts of their body only, but I know one large owner near here who has continued to mark thousands of calves each year in the middle of the ribs, and will continue to do it, though I believe liable to a heavy fine for each animal. Who will oblige the scab Inspector to do his work; certainly not the average Juez de Paz, and the large estancieros who might speak to some purpose, have their lands fenced in, and will not take much notice whether the Inspector does his duty or not, so long as he leaves them alone. The administration of a scab law would form a capital excuse to Government to put a tax on sheep for the payment of the Inspectors' salaries, and also for the satisfying of private animosities by the Inspectors and Jueces. No, however, good and necessary the law may be I don't think it would be anything but a misfortune to the camp until the laws are administered here in the same spirit that they are in England, or in an English colony, and that I don't think the present generation is likely to see. A law obliging the extirpation of biscachas and bad weeds is quite as necessary as a scab law, and would have a greater chance of being attended to. The fences of the large estancieros cut them off to a great extent from the chance of infection by the scabby sheep of their neighbours, but do not prevent the biscachas continually invading lands from which they have been banished, nor the introduction of abrojo grande and other weeds; and the large proprietors are the men who usually have the power to make a stir in the camp partidos. Being fenced in I don't think they would trouble much about scab, but a man who had spent thousands of dollars in killing biscachas, and cutting weeds, would hardly allow his neighbours to keep them if he could help it, as it would be a continual source of expense to himself. Abrojo grande is extending in a terrible manner all over the north thanks principally to the chacras; on this estancia for years I never saw a plant, but now every year I have to exercise the greatest care in rooting up a number of plants introduced by people crossing the land with their horses' tails full of the burrs, and round all the towns it is allowed to flourish in luxuriousness; visnaga, cicuta, cardo negro and other weeds are also allowed to grow nearly everywhere at their own sweet will.

One more word on the scab law question: I was speaking to the owner of some very scabby sheep the other day, and he said the cause was that the 'remedio' he had used was of no use; he had done his best but the remedio was valueless. Opinions may differ as to what his best was, but I ask you knowing as you do what a camp juez generally is, would he make the fine for having scab effective to that man, if he went with such a plea especially if he was a friend or attended the Juzgado backed by a good "empeño?" Excuse the length of this. I enclose my card

Yours truly.

EDITOR'S TABLE

To-day at 3 o'clock Dr. Irigoyen returns to town; there will be a grand gathering at the station to welcome him back, and well he merits it. A special committee leaves by first train in the morning for Campana to meet him there, and Mr. Clark with his proverbial attention has placed a special train at the orders of the distinguished Candidate and his friends. The hour of meeting at the Central station is 2 o'clock, and from thence the procession will march with Dr. Irigoyen to the National theatre, where there will be speeches, after which it will proceed to his house, and then dissolve. The demonstration promises to be one of the grandest ever witnessed in this city.

Our colleague El Nacional states that Congress will close this year at the appointed time by law, and there will be no extension of the Session as is customary. This is most important, and we suppose our colleague must have the news from a reliable source.

The concert at Flores on Tuesday night next in aid of the Revd. Mr. Spilsbury's new chapel is the great topic in English circles. Everybody seems to be going, not only from town, but from Lomas, Belgrano, and lots of other places. The programme will speak for itself, and also for the talented amateurs and professionals who are to interpret it. Miss Lumb's superb voice and admirable school of singing are well known in Society, and it will indeed be a treat to hear her in the songs set down for her. Miss Johnstone is a rising professional of great merit who has made rapid way since she arrived here. Mr. Paul, his pupil Mr Fred Mackern, Dr. Mackern, and Mr Miller all stand high in the musical world. We fully expect the largest British gathering seen here since the last Bachelors' Ball.

This morning at 8 a.m. a gay party leaves for Zapiola, where the Gun Club holds its fete, it promises to be one of the grandest affairs of the season.

This morning there will be a special sermon in the Flores Chapel of Ease for the order of Good Templers in commemoration of the founding of their order in England.

The next rehearsals for the St. Andrew's Scotch Church concert will be held on Monday and Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Church.

Mr. Davison, estanciero Venado Tuerto, arrived in town yesterday. He brings the best of good news from there, camps in splendid condition and sheep and cattle doing well.

We regret to state that such is the excitement in Montevideo amongst the Spaniards, about the Carolinas question, that Dr. Garbiso a well known physician is off his head, and sentinels have been placed at the door of his house.

The duel yesterday was the talk of the whole town; both combatants were wounded. Colonel Fotheringham at first cut Com. Pereyra slightly in the forehead, and the wound had to be bound up. The fight was resumed, and Pereyra gave Fotheringham a fearful cut down on the side of the head which at once stopped the fight. Pereyra was able to walk home, but the Colone had to be carried. The duel took place in the South barracks.

A happy couple; cards have been received from Germany which runs so :

Emma Drissen
Heinrich Taenisch
Leipzig — Buenos Ayres

We wish our esteemed friend the leading exporter and estanciero Mr. Taenisch and his bride long health and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Scouler (Miss Arden) and Mr. Latham, leave on Sunday for Europe, per Hevelius. Mr. Chas. Lascano, about whom there has been considerable conversation and newspaper reporting, also goes, we believe, under the care of Dn. Daniel. If our Dan is to look after Mr. Lascano, who is to look after our Dan?

We have received further particulars about the death of young Austin. It appears that he had been playing cards and drinking with some young fellows at Capilla. A row ensued, and one of the players drew a knife and stabbed the unfortunate young man in the stomach. His wound was attended to at once, but he died, after terrible sufferings, in the British Hospital, on the 17th inst.

President Roca and a crowd of military officers went to have a look at the new Arsenal near the Corrales on Friday. They took the Lord Mayor in too, to show him how shamefully he has neglected the South end of town while grotto-making at the North.

If the peaceful news about the Carolinas question be true, we would not give much for Alfonso's crown. There is only one peaceful way out of the mess, and that is leaving the islands to Germany. This the Spanish people won't have, and, if it be done, down go Alfonso and all his family.

The Prensa is rapidly forging its way to the front as the leading organ. It is always right on the great questions of the day. It had an excellent leader yesterday on the Banks.

Although the country is so terrifically hard up, and in spite of there being a motion before Congress to postpone building the Boulevard, the new Policia and the new Immigrants' Hotel till better times, yesterday's papers announced that work had commenced on the new Policia!

EDITOR'S TABLE

The blessed Consejo met at long last on Friday night and had a long palaver about Biekert, Boulevards and "barrancas," in which Messrs Boeri Buschiazo and some other busy bees and Municipal busibodies took part. The Boulevard is to be made, not a doubt of that. Alderman Boeri proposed what should have been the plan from the beginning, namely, to make a clean sweep of all the manzanas between the South side of Calle Victoria and the North side of Rivadavia. This amendment was unfortunately rejected. One Alderman, (May Migo Jones forgive him!) proposed that all the buildings on the new Boulevard should be alike in every respect. The artistic Italian blood of Mr. Buschiazo, the City Architect, rose at this Bœtian proposal, and he raised his eyes to heaven and his voice in strong protest against such a monstrous idea. Variety is charming, and in nothing more than architecture.

President Roca signed the decree for Mr. Sandoval's Floating Docks yesterday. There will be one at Bahia Blanca, another at Corrientes and a third at Concepcion. Why Buenos Ayres is not to be favoured with one is not stated. One of the docks will be large enough to hold vessels of 6000 tons.

The grand political dinner to Dr. Irigoyen is fixed for next Tuesday week. Dr. Rocha's proclamation will come off this day week, so things are likely to be pretty hot and heavy in the political line for the next ten days.

Those who were thinking of making enormous fortunes by buying lands in Paraguay gave a sudden gasp and felt a tightness about the liver when they read the Prensa yesterday morning. It appears that all the Public Lands of Paraguay are already pledged to the holders of the too famous Lincolnshire Farmers (A cruel joke that was!) Loan; and so is the railway, which the Goverment is now forced to buy back from the company to which it sold it. This is a pretty kettle of fish.

The pneumatic postal service in Paris lately completed, cost over $200,000, and the length of the pipes is over thirty-four miles. The charge for transmitting a letter to any place within the fortifications is three cents. The service covers extreme points about seven miles apart.

Signor Lombardi, the talented 'chef d'orchestre' of the Colon opera company took his benefit last night. The buffo piece 'Crispino é la Comare' was performed, and Signor L. dedicated it to the Consejo Deliberante. The worthy 'chef' seems to possess that sardonic sarcasm one sometimes sees in Italians. One good turn deserves another. The Consejo should dedicate their next buffoon performance to Signor Lombardi.

The Villarino will start for Montevideo for repairs on the 25th, the Piedrabuena taking her place on the Santa Cruz route. This time of year, or a little later, is just the season for a sea run towards the South Pole.

The Mendoza Lottery for the Merced Church will be drawn on the last Sunday of this month, this day week. Padre Rassore's innumerable friends are applying for tickets in hundreds, and he is sure of a large sum for the repair of his time-honoured church.

More muddling! The cost of sending newly arrived emigrants to Martin Garcia to be fumigated has been trebled since the Resguardo steamers perform the service, for which they (or the department) get 35 cents per head. It does sound very funny that one Government department should pay another as if it were a private contractor. The service is so abominably performed that the poor emigrants are often ten days on the island instead of one or two.

Don Angel Elias, who was Urquiza's Secretary in 1851, when he finished off Rosas, has just died in Gualeguaychu.

The legal scuffle between Messrs Demarchi & Co. and Monsieur Duran about cigarettes has ended by the former making an ample apology to the latter, as they were completely led astray in the case.

There was another sudden death on Friday; a woman cook named Sherry, who fell dead in a private house in Calle Uruguay, while preparing some mutton chops for breakfast. The number of sudden deaths in this city of late is both remarkable and alarming. Is it the air, the water, the food, the climate, or what?

Did you ever? The Education Board of Santa Fé province is absolutely working for an increase of salary to the public school teachers. An Education Board proposing an increase of salaries is so astounding that we fear Santa Fé is in for something unusual—say an earthquake, a tidal wave, a Hopkin's storm, or an honest Government.

Several cases of women being burned to death by their clothes taking fire haveng recently occurred, a leading doctor gives very simple directions to all women whose garments may take fire. The flame rises in half a second from the bottom to the top of the dress, owing to the perpendicular position of the latter, but if the wearer at once throw herself on the ground and roll over and over, the flame is certain to be extinguished at the third turn. To run away screaming, as some women do, is certain destruction. The doctor recommends all mothers to make their daughters practice the precaution in fun, by coming on them when they least expect it and crying "your clothes are on fire!" By this means the ideas of fire and throwing themselves on the floor will be fastened in their heads, and they will be sure to do it in a real emergency. We strongly recommend the doctor's excellent advice to our lady readers.

A Frenchman from the provinces who was paying a prolonged visit to Paris found his hair was leaving him at the top of his head, and took his barber to task about it.—"You sold me two bottles of stuff to make the hair grow."—"It is very strange it won't grow again," said the modern Figaro; "I can't understand it."—"Look here!" said the countryman. "I don't mind drinking another bottle; but this must be the last."

"You Americans," said an Englishman to a young lady, "have no ancestry to which you can point with pride." "That is very true," she assented. "Most of our ancestors came from England, you know."

David Hume, the historian, observed that all the devout men he had mett with were melancholy. Bishop Home replied that this might very probabiy be the case; for, in the first place, it was most likely he saw very few, his friends and acquaintance being of a very different kind; and, secondly, the sight of him would make a devout man look melancholy at any time.

Important Notice.

I hereby advise the public that I have established a Gymnasium Institute at Calle Florida 406 where I also apply the MASSAGE SYSTEM as studied and practiced at Dr. KELLGREN'S well known institute in London.

This system has given the most surprising results in curing these and lung complaints, and all maladies caused by the kidneys and joints, and in any way connected with the nervous system. Thus the celebrated SYSTEM of MASSAGE is recommended as a certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, undeveloped muscles, paralysis, disorders in the digestion and in the circulation of the blood, etc., etc.

I have also a special class for the development of the body and muscles.

The following is the time-table I have arranged for the application of the Massage System:

For Gentlemen 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

For Ladies 12½ to 2 p.m.

Consultation hours—11.50 a.m. to 12.50.

Parents can also make arrangements for the application of the Massage System at their own residences.

ON 'CHANGE

September 19th, 1885

Gold	37.70 o/o prem.
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas F	80½
Cedulas G	87⅛

The gold market opened this morning with visible signs of weakness, but a reaction took place before the close of official hours and the premium ran up rapidly, closing a little above the opening rate. A leading Argentine broker sold freely, but his large sales failed to leave lasting impression on the market. The turn in the speculative tide was so strong and steady to-day that the hopeful bulls think that bottom prices have been touched. Outsiders have stepped into the arena and are securing gold on time, for the end of the year and for next January, and speculators think that merchants have at last re-entered the market after the pause that followed last month's stiff rise in the premium.

Over two hundred thousand dollars changed hands for cash; the market opened at 37.90, fell steadily to 37.30, but rose gradually again closing at 37.70. Operations for the end of the month embraced $415,000; rates opened at 37⅛, fell to 37, and closed firm at 37.60. Speculation for the end of October drags slowly, owing to the uncertain prospects of the market; $175,000 were sold, prices opening at 36.80, falling to 36½, and closing at 37 o/o premium. Over $800,000 were sold during official hours. Eighty thousand dollars were sold for the end of the year at 36½, and 30,000 were sold at the same premium for the end of January.

Shares and stocks ruled both dull and weak, owing to the extraordinary apathy of the market. A few thousand Cedulas A changed hands for cash at 100½, and Series F at 80½ to 80¾. A small amount of Series G was sold at 87 to 87¼. One hundred shares of the National Bank were sold for the end of the month at 147. Nothing was reported in the favorite Scrip. The balance-sheet of the Bank had not the effect of putting up the price of the stock. The profits of the Bank are very large.

The exchange market ruled dull, as usual, this morning. Rates are nominally quoted at 46⅝ to 46¾d. The market, contrary to espectations entertained last month, shews little inclination to rise, and some exchange brokers opine that exchange will rule weak even during the busy season. The rate on London has not risen to par yet this year. The money market continues in an unaltered condition with symptoms of a tightening tendency. Gold is coming on the market more freely.

Several of the wealthiest sheepfarmers in the country will begin shearing their flocks on the 1st prox., the traditional clip day in the Plate. Consignees, however, do not expect much activity in the wool market next month, and they view the fall in gold in this market, and the fall in the value of wool in Europe with serious misgivings. A leading consignee informs us that farmers will only sell the necessary quantity of wool to pay their way and expenses, if gold does not rise or if the present low limits, spoken of, are maintained.

The rosy hopes that the prospects of the busy season inspired in July and August are gradually subsiding as that much-desired stage approaches. The wave of depression that is sweeping over the manufacturing markets of Europe and the U. States is felt with much intensity all over the world, and the effect. are becoming painfully visible in this countrys Last season we escaped, so to say, through the wide door of a premium on gold that reached 60 o/o, but since then prices in Europe have fallen to a lower ebb, and the premium on gold in this market shews symptoms of falling to 30 o/o. The limits that are spoken of in the produce markets are the lowest on record for many years, and the outlook is anything but satisfactory, and it is not astonishing to see the producer anxiously hoping for a further rise in gold to reduce the intensity of the fall in the price of wool in the markets of consumption. The depreciation of our principal articles of production is the key note to the situation of the country.

Hides, tallow, wool, sheepskins, lambskins, cereals, gold are falling. The subdued eyes of the popular consignatario drop tears as fast as the Arabian trees their medicinable gum, at the thought that paper only is improving in value. Whilst the Government and Congress are legislating to improve the value of the paper dollar; whilst the banker and the merchant are deploring the baneful effects of the depreciation in the currency, our Plaza Once friends are bewailing the appreciation of the paper dollar and are invoking Mammon to put up gold. The news from Havre, announcing a further fall of wool at the auction, failed to surprise wool men, as it is the old tune. The reported failures in the manufacturing districts of the North of France, the tardy arrival of the 'artistas', and the low limits spoken of in the market, will lead to a great accumulation of produce in the deposits this season. There are very faint hopes of a revival in the European markets.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

The sessions of Congress will close on the 30th inst. and the Executive Power will most probably not extend the term. Many important bills must stand over for another year, and more's the pity as the electioneering business of 1886 will leave little leisure for other and more important matters. This has been one of the most barren sessions on record.

Members complain very much that the telephone service of the Bolsa has not yet been put on a proper footing. The new exchange was inaugurated a fortnight ago, and it is high time that the telephones be put in order.

About $200,000 were sold during afterhours. The market advanced to 38, but closed weak at 37.70 for the end of the month. There were steady buyers for December and January at 36½. The following houses were sold to-day—

Calle Juncal No. 100, measuring 12x50, for 800,000$%. Seller, Mr Petrucci, buyer, Judge Sauze.

Corner of Victoria and Solis, measuring 28x43, for 13,000$m/n.

Two hundred shares of the Tacuarendi sugar factory company have been sold for the end of December at 25 per cent premium. These shares bear a nominal value of 100m/n each. The capital of the Company amounts to 500,000 $m/n, of which 400,000 paid up. The factory has turned out 85,000 ar. of sugar since the month of May and the manager expects 100,000 @ next year. Mr La Riviere has made a contract to supply the factory with the sugar cane of 400 hectares of plantation which will materially increase the work of the factory. It is a pleasure to see the prosperous condition of this new company and the splendid field of labor the Chaco offers to the enterprise.

The Bill, granting a 6 o/o guarantee on the capital of meat export companies, at present under study of the Committee in the Deputies, is already producing the results expected by the framer of the scheme. Mr. Rodolfo Heimendahl has applied in anticipation to the Minister of the Interior, requesting the guarantee concession for a company with a capital of three million national dollars. Mr. Jaime Cibils & Buxareo has also applied for the guarantee on a capital of two million dollars. Congress can gauge the importance of the Meat Export Bill by these two requests. The Bill should come to the front at once and be unanimously passed.

According to a Montevidean colleague, the following are the principal bases of the Banco Uruguayo scheme. The contract is 'ad referendum'. The Board shall comprise six members appointed by the shareholders and one named by the Government. The President of the Board in Montevideo shall be named by the Directors and not by the Government, as was stipulated in the first contract. The capital of the Bank shall be fixed at two millions sterling nominal, with one million paid-up. A fourth part of the capital shall be exclusively devoted to mortgages. The Government shall enjoy a credit in the Bank to the amount of two million dollars at 6 o/o interest. The Syndicate expects the Government to post the Budget daily and to close the issue of the Deuda Amortizable after settling all pending accounts. The Revenue of the Government shall be deposited daily in the Bank and a monopoly of issue 20 cents to 10$ notes shall be granted. No other Bank shall enjoy this privilege. All judicial deposits to go to the Bank. The Bank to undertake the service of the Foreign and Home Debt, and the Syndicate to place a certain number of shares on the Montevidean market. These shares to bear a nominal value of £20 each and to be subscribed at par. The Government shall fix the amount of shares to be placed in the Republic. The Syndicate bind themselves to open the Bank immediately after signing of the contract. The Montevidean Government is discussing the business, and it appears that Minister Terra is opposed to the contract. This opposition may lead to some further concessions from the Syndicate.

The Havre wool auction closed yesterday with a fall of 10 centimes all round, compared with closing prices of last auctions. Stock of wool in Havre does not reach 10,000 bales.

Hides have fallen considerably of late, owing to rumors of unfavorable advices from North America. Matadero hides, especially, are weak and in the last four days they have fallen 15 % per pesada. The fall in all descriptions may be estimated at 10 to 12 % per pesada. Hides from the rivers are somewhat neglected. The last sales amounted to 3 or 4,000 hides at 68 rls. Holders endeavor to make a stand and ask 69 rls.

Lambskins have suffered another collapse. They fell yesterday $1 to 2. In fact, every article of produce is falling in the markets. Even tallow fell yesterday $1.

Messrs. Galarce & Co. have sold 738 bags of flour from the Iturraspe mill, mark Las Tunas, at $0.78 m/n. The price shows the weakness of the market.

Feathers are somewhat firmer. Good qualities sell at 1 m/n per lb

To judge by the statements of the Montevidean press the bulk of the Hermes's cargo will be saved. Two horses, saved from the wreck, are at present on exhibition in the Mount. These animals must be fine indeed, since President Santos, General Tajes, and many other notable Orientales took the trouble of paying them a special visit of inspection.

General Remarks—

The market has ruled very quiet during the past month, and very little demand was to be noted for sailing vessels. For steamer sufficient cargo was to be had, but at rather low rates, about fs.20 for Antwerp and 17s to 18s for Liverpool.

There is no improvement nor any active movement to be expected in business before a month or two when the demand for vessels for linseed and hardwood sets in; and vessels will have to leave in ballast for the Brazilian market, for the months coming, except the limited number that will get a cargo of hay which as customary will go forward to that direction.

From the proceeding list of charters the business of the month as well as the rates of freight will be observed.

N.B. Ships letters and telegrams addressed to my care will be promptly delivered on vessels arrival or forwarded free of expense if the vessel has sailed.
